Our new jailer is doing good work. Mrs. Mollie Spooner died Wednesday night.

The coal operators are kept on the rush to fill orders.

A mad dog, near Climax, killed 10 geese, a half dozen chickens and bit live stock before it was slain.

Ballast crushers will begin operations for railroad purposes in April. Rockcastle has two fine plants.

John Doyle, who was a member of the Bell county sheriff's posse in the "Quarter House" fight, is dead, making the seventh victim of the battle.

There seems to be an epidemic in rafting here. Guns, pistols, pocket knives and pigs feet. One man who won a leg of porker pedal extremities, one day this week, spread a feast to the bystanders.

"Hilly" Fields, one of the best men in the mountains or any other old place for that matter, was up from Livingston Tuesday, accompanied by Mr. Browning. Our young friend, Ernest Ewers, is delivering to his friends the best fountain pen made, at cost, postage and chewing gum. James W. Gentry will take the road to sell computing scales.

William Thomason, of this county, with his youngest son, recently visited his old father whom he had not seen for 20 years. Francis M. Curtis, aged 72, was in town several days last week. Not few imagine he is so aged. From his sprightliness one would think he is "one of the boys." His father, Monroe Curtis, aged 95, is a resident of Lincoln county.

Visiting attorneys: Col. Wm. G. Welch, J. W. Alcorn, Stanford; J. M. Rothwell, Lancaster; F. F. Hobblit, Crab Orchard; R. M. Johnson, Cookeburg; Jesse Rodgers, Knoxville; Chase, Durham, tried for shooting Will Tink Mullins, dismissed. William Gant, shooting at John Pitman, fined $50. H. Mize, for killing Robert Whittaker, continued. Indictments found against Willis and Wyatt Allen for killing Squire Jones Gatliff.

In the case between Howman & Cockrell and W. R. Dillon, over water rights on Rockcastle River, by their wills, Dillon was awarded a verdict. The grand found some 33 indictments, principally against liquor men. While on the first day a good many were pulled for using to much booze, the remainder of the term was not out of the ordinary. Court adjourned Wednesday. Judge Morrow can discharge disagreeable duties in such a suave manner that it recalls the instance where a judge passed the death sentence in such a smooth, genteel manner that the culprit felt called upon to say "thank you, judge."

A son of John Marler accidentally shot himself through the leg last Sunday afternoon while handling a pistol. Lawyer C. C., Judge R. G. and Miss Isela Williams visited Chelton. It is not J. L. Joplin the hotel man, but his brother, J. S., who will enter the mercantile business at Junction City. Luther Mullins is working in the Colonel office. R. L. Jones, brakeman, is at home from C. S. George McCarthy, one of the leading W. U. men, changed the dispatcher's office from one room to another at Livingston this week. G. M. Hallard, school superintendent, has been admitted to the practice of law.

Lent is a season set apart by the Catholic church in commemoration of the passion and death of Christ. It lasts 40 days and during that time members of the church give up all kinds of amusements and do penance by fasting and other acts of mortification and self-sacrifice. It began Wednesday of last week, and all the week days of Lent from Ash Wednesday to Easter Sunday are fast days of precept, or one meal, with the allowance of a modest collation in the evening. Many dispensations have been granted for this diocese by the authority of the Holy See in regard to the diet allowed and the days and time of day meat and other edibles may be taken. The time for fulfilling the Easter precept of Communion in the diocese extends from the first Sunday in Lent to Trinity Sunday inclusive.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure in its stages, and that is Catarrh. The Catarrh Cure, which is well known to the medical fraternity, is a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. H. H. Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thus destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitutional and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. Interesting Letter on an Enjoyable Trip.

STANFORD, KY., Feb. 29.—My Dear Sir:—I cheerfully accept your invitation to say something through your paper about my recent trip to South Carolina and the Inter State and West Indian Exposition at Charleston. The chief object of my trip was to visit once more the home of my childhood. But my! what changes have taken place. A generation has grown up since I left and the splendid pine forests of 20 years ago are now cotton fields.

The method of farming has greatly changed, but all for the better. More than 60 per cent. of cotton is raised to the acre now than was raised before and during the war. Tobacco is now becoming quite an industry in South Carolina and it is of very fine quality. Farmers have realized from $50 to $60 per acre on the weed. While cotton is the main staple, a great deal of corn and hay is also raised; so that very few good farmers have to buy either unless it be an unusually bad crop, such as it was last year. A merchant said to me: "It will take the profits of five years past to make up what we lost last year. Corn is now selling at from $1 to $1.25 per bushel." Many have asked me since my return about the Charleston Exposition. It is very fine. All they lack is a crowd. By reason of the very cold weather the attendance has been light, but will be better later on. A trip to that old historic city would be well worth the money, were there no exposition going on.

Charleston prides itself on its antiquity. Several buildings erected before Revolutionary war are still standing. Old St. Michael's church, built in 1701, and which was fired on by the British, is visited by hundreds daily. The high pulpit and the winding stairway to it, and the sounding board of 100 years ago, still remain as they were then. I saw the pew in which Washington once sat during worship there, and passed by a house in which he was entertained. One thing which forcibly strikes the Western man in visiting the old city, is the quaintness of the buildings and the deliberation in the movements of the people and the leisurely way in which business is carried on. None of that go-ahead-a-live-ness that we see further north.

Charleston has 60,000 people, more than half of whom are Negroes. Leaving Charleston, I went back to my old home, where I preached last Sunday in the pulpit where my venerable father was pastor for 65 years. He is buried just back of the pulpit, and over his grave stands a handsome monument erected by the church composing the Santos Association. Altogether my trip was a most enjoyable one, but I am glad to be back in old Kentucky, and shall be perfectly contented to spend the rest of my days among the good people of my adopted State.

Very Respectfully,

R. H. MAHONY.

BILIOUS COLIC.

H. Seever, a carpenter and builder of Kenton, Tenn., when suffering intensely from an attack of bilious colic, sent to a nearby drug store for something to relieve him. The druggist sent him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, three doses of which effected a permanent cure. This is the only remedy that can be depended upon in the most severe cases of colic and cholera morbus.

PETITIONS with 300,000 names, gathered from every part of the country, ask Congress to reduce letter postage to a cent. Representative Smith, of Illinois, is a firm believer in the idea of penny postage, and proposes to push that theory until he sees a realization of the cheapest postage for letters in the United States that is enjoyed by any other country on the globe. Mr. Smith has introduced a bill for the purpose and has arranged with the committee on postoffice and post roads to grant him a hearing on the bill at an early date. The annual deficit in the running of the postoffice department has gradually decreased from $9,000,000 or $10,000,000 to $3,000,000 during the past year, with an estimate by the department that it will not exceed $2,000,000 for the coming year. With such a showing penny postage seems not only possible but practical.

THE President's memorandum is an answer to the appeal of Rear Admiral Schley, which he made public yesterday, not only denies the petition, but discloses Schley's alleged shortcomings before and during the battle of Santiago in plainer language than any other official has dared to employ. Schley is given no credit for the battle. Incidental criticism, too, is applied to Sampson. "It was a Captain's victory," says the President. Schley, he says, should have been condemned for his conduct previous to the battle, and his adverse comment on the "loop" implies a charge of cowardice. Teddy missed his calling. He should have been a sea-warrior rather than a rougher-president. What he doesn't know about fighting on water isn't worth telling.

THE republican side of the House took Representative Wheeler, of Kentucky, to task for his speech on the State department, Prince Henry and Lord Pauncefort. Mr. Gillet, of Massachusetts, glibly deplored the affront that had been given a foreign country in the reference to Prince Henry. Representatives Robinson, of Indiana, and Thayer, of Massachusetts, said the democratic party could not be held responsible for Mr. Wheeler's utterances. Mr. Wheeler asks nobody for party to be responsible for his magnificent speech, which has greatly elevated him in the eyes of his thousands of admirers. He is one of the few public men who speaks his sentiments on any and all occasions, caring not who it hurts or what the result will be.

A PERMIT was issued in Chicago for the construction of what is planned to be the largest office building in the world. The building is projected by the First National Bank officers, and will house, when completed, 9,000 people. It will stand at Dearborn and Monroe streets and will cost $3,000,000. Work will begin in the Spring.

REAR ADMIRAL SCHLEY was scolded by the State Senate of New York. The presiding officer refused to allow him to be introduced. If that presiding officer should happen down this way soon, he'll think he has struck the heart of the torrid zone, so hot will the grand old man's admirers make it for him.

The United States, through Secretary Hay, sent a note to Russia and China, dated Feb. 1, warning them that the United States will not permit the integrity of the Chinese Empire to be molested in favor of one nation to the detriment of another. Vernon, and who sustained injuries from a dynamite explosion from material which had been placed about the boiler to thaw, brought suit against Dr. John M. Williams, late candidate for Congress, who attended his injuries, for malpractice. Two days were consumed in the trial and the doctor was exonerated, the jury believing that the crippled condition of the plaintiff was caused by disobedience of instructions of the attending physician.

Modern Drug Dealing.

The elements that enter into perfect drug service are, we believe, these: Competency, quality, courteousness and a fair profit policy. We endeavor to give all these the fullest expression. While in some things there is legitimate need of varying qualities, in medicinal drugs there is not. We handle one grade only--the highest--yet our prices are apt to be less than inferior are sold for

His bill to extend guardianship of female wards till the age of 21, instead of 18, as provided, came next and was passed by a vote of 72 to 10. It looks like our representative gets what he goes after. The reason of it is to go after the right things.

THE docket of the February term of circuit court, which begins Monday, contains 85 commonwealth cases, 10 ordinary, 10 ordinary appearances, 11 equity appearances and 79 old equity cases. THE INTERIOR JOURNAL sincerely hopes that the bill removing the party devices from the ballot will be passed. The man, whether he be white or colored, who is totally dependent on a picture to enable him to vote, should not be permitted to enjoy the right of suffrage, in these days of free schools, and easy means of acquiring the ability to read.

NOT GLANDERS.—On Tuesday night Marshal Jones, on a written order, signed by Dr. Steele Bailey, chairman, and Dr. J. F. Peyton, member of the County Board of Health, had two valuable horses belonging to J. H. & E. H. Beazley shot, believing the animals had glanders. It was also ordered that the bodies be burned, but this the Messrs. Beazley declined to permit. However, they had them taken to the Beazley farm and yesterday evening Dr. C. C. Hooker, the Richmond veterinarian, came down and examined the heads closely. He also carefully diagnosed the cases of several of their horses that are sick and pronounced the trouble distemper, with no signs of glanders. The animals caught a severe cold during a recent freshet and one night stood in water nearly up to their knees for hours before their owners knew it. If, as Dr. Hooker states, it is not glanders, and he stands well as a "horse doctor," the Messrs. Beazley will expect a remuneration for their losses.

Your correspondent succeeded in burling her arm quite severely a few days since, which will not, however, necessitate amputation.

Miss Lulu McFarland and brother, John McFarland, of Knoxville, are expected today to be the guests of their aunt, Mrs. H. C. Penaybacker.

D. M. Creighton expresses an anxiety to know, after we have exterminated the lawless element, what we are to do with the "naturally mean" people.

Mario Williams, night track watchman, was struck by a train in the tunnel Saturday night and severely injured. It is supposed that he had fallen asleep on the side of the track when the train struck his shoulder. His injuries are not considered dangerous, however. He is one of our best citizens.

Since some are inclined to criticize our expression of sympathy for the "cigarette fiends" we desire to say that we have been taught to believe that it is right to "feel sorry" for the "weak and erring." We do not sympathize with criminals at any rate. Furthermore, we sometimes just a little and if some are of the "jokes that don't go down" it is not our fault. We are sure that the I. J. interprets us correctly if some of its readers do not.
